

Summer Job Opportunity: Research Assistants

Grenfell Campus, Memorial University

One(1) summer Job opportunity for undergraduate students (preferably 2nd year or higher in Environmental Science/General Science/Environment & Sustainability) are available for Potato field and Forage research.

Details of the Position

Offer: May to August 2026, 14 weeks (~35 h/week; $18.65/h)

Workstations: Cormack farm sites, Deer Lake and BERI labs, Grenfell Campus.

Duties: Assist in the preparation and setting up of potato and forage field experiments. Assist in soil, crop and greenhouse gas sampling and monitoring total and marketable potato yield; Soil sample preparation and analysis in BERI labs; Data recording and reporting.

Benefits: Gain hands-on experience in agricultural research, improve field data collection skills, develop teamwork and problem-solving abilities in a real-world setting, and opportunity to work with graduate students, postdoctoral fellows and faculty.

Potential starting date: Monday, 04 May 2026

How to Apply: Email your CV/resume to [cfmanful@mun.ca].

Apply on or before: Monday, 17 November 2026

Contacts:

Charles Manful

AS 321

cfmanful@mun.ca