

GCSU Lions Club Max Simms Award

The Grenfell Campus Lions Club Max Simms Award was established in 2020 in honor of Lion Max Simms. A Corner Brook resident, Max Simms was a lifelong member of the Lions Club and despite his disability served as District Governor, Council Chairman, and International Councillor of Lions International. The award is valued at $500.00 and is given to a full-time undergraduate student in good academic standing with a cumulative average of 65% or higher. The undergraduate student must have a chronic disability or illness which can be either mental or physical.

Students can be nominated or can also self nominate by providing the information below along with an approximately 500-word letter describing their experiences associated with attending university as a person with a disability or illness. Candidates are also asked to briefly describe their campus and community involvement and include documents verifying their involvement.
